

MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC.

The "Jealous Wife" at the Arch. There are few more entertaining comedies than George Colman's "Jealous Wife," which was given at the Arch Street Theatre last evening. The plot is artistic and skilfully carried out, the dialogue is brilliant from the beginning to the end, and the characters are strongly defined, so that the actors have a fair chance to do themselves justice. The part of "Mrs. Oakley," in particular, is a capital one for a talented actress, and it was admirably filled by Mrs. Drew, who personated the unjustly suspicious wife to the life. The scenes between "Mrs. Oakley" and her husband are replete with telling points, which, without being overdone, were given in a style that the audience was quick to appreciate. The performance last night was even more spirited than on the previous evening, and the actors appeared to be in better accord with each other. Mr. James, as "Charles Oakley," managed to use his voice so that the audience had the benefit of it, and Mr. Everly personated "Lord Trinker"—a part somewhat out of his usual line, by the way—remarkably well. We were not quite able to determine whether Mr. Craig was not well up in his lines, or whether he did not have a very clear comprehension of the requirements of the character of "Sir Harry Beagle," but we are strongly inclined to the latter opinion. Mr. Craig at times does some pretty good things in the way of farce and burlesque acting, and that he has more than usual talent is undeniable, but as far as legitimate comedy is concerned he appears to be the merest novice, and we have seen better performance by actors of not half his ability. The present opportunity is one that this gentleman ought to improve, if he has any desire whatever to make his mark as a comedian, and the worst point in his performance last evening, in our eyes, was that he did not seem to be inclined even to make an effort to do justice to the role entrusted to him. If an actor is palpably deficient in ability we can afford to pass over his failures in charitable silence, but from one who has been as much praised as Mr. Craig we have a right to expect the best that he can do at all times, and more especially when he is included in the cast of as good a play as "The Jealous Wife."

The other characters were very well represented as follows:—"Mr. Oakley," Mr. Barton Hill; "Major Oakley," Mr. Mackay; "Mr. Russet," Mr. Wallis; "Captain O'Cutler," Mr. Snyder; "Paris," Mr. Mesinger; "Lady Freeloze," Mrs. Mader; "Harriet Russet," Mrs. T. A. Creese. The elegant and appropriate costumes are entitled to a word of commendation; but the mouseteas worn by most of the male actors were out of character, decidedly, and good taste would suggest that they should be sacrificed in the cause of art. To do this might cause a pang of regret at first, but the approving voice of conscience would be a more than sufficient reward. Try it, gentlemen, and see.

Dramatic Notes. —Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Florence produced the Paris dramatization of "No Thoroughfare" at the Broadway Theatre, New York, on Monday evening. This piece has been running in Paris ever since last winter. The versions of the story heretofore brought out in the United States did not succeed.

—Miss Lydia Thompson and her English burlesque company opened at Wood's Museum, New York, on Monday, in two pieces, "Zion, or the Man on the Wheel," and "To Oblige Benson."

—A new play by Mr. Gayler, entitled "Out of the Streets," will be brought out at the New York Theatre next Monday.

—Francis Fanny Janauschek was to have commenced an engagement at the Academy of Music, New York, on next Monday, but as the Democrats are to hold forth in mass meeting next door on the 5th of October, she has prudently deferred her performance until after the "unterrified" get through. Janauschek will only give eight performances in New York at present.

—A new piece entitled "A Dark Hour Before Day" was produced at the Bowery Theatre, New York, on last Monday evening.

—Mr. G. L. Fox's pantomime of "Humpty Dumpty" is still running successfully at the Olympic Theatre, New York.

Musical Notes. —Graw's Opera Bouffe Company will open at the French Theatre, New York, on Monday evening next, with "La Grande Duchesse de Gerolstein."

—The last performance of "Barbe Bleue" by the Bateman Troupe will be given at Niblo's Garden, New York, on Wednesday evening of next week. The troupe will then be transferred to Pike's Opera House, in Twenty-third street.

—Mr. Max Strakosch's Concert Troupe consists of Miss Kellogg, Signor Lotti, Signor Petrelli, Herr Pollok, and Signor Sasin. It is thought that Madlle. Stella Bonheur will also be added to the company. Mr. Strakosch will give his first concert at the Academy of Music, New York, on the 19th, 21st, and 23d of October.

The City Amusements. —AT THE WALNUT Mrs. Lauder will appear as "Queen Elizabeth," on this and to-morrow evening, for the last time. Schiller's "Mary Stuart" will be produced on Friday.

AT THE ARCH Sheridan's comedy of "The Rival" will be performed this evening, with Mrs. Drew as "Lydia Languish." The afterpiece will be "The Rough Diamond."

AT THE CHESTNUT the romantic drama of "Undine," with its fine ballet and beautiful scenery, will be given this evening.

AT THE AMERICAN the Gregory family will appear for the last time during the present week.

AT HOOLEY'S OPERA HOUSE Joe Emmett will appear this evening as the Dutch "Captain Jucker."

CITY ITEMS.

NEW STYLES FALL CLOTHING.—In store and receiving daily, also, new and choice styles in the piece to be made up to order. Great bargains in summer goods, ready made or made to order. Style, fit, and workmanship of our garments surpassed by none, equaled by few. All prices guaranteed lower than the lowest elsewhere, and full satisfaction guaranteed to every purchaser, or the sale cancelled and money refunded. Half-way between BENTLEY & CO., 5th and 6th streets, and TOWER HALL, 5th and 6th streets, PHILADELPHIA. AND 600 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

NOTE THREE FACTS.—The object of this article is to call the attention of the feeble and ailing to themselves. Ordinarily, business, pleasure, in short almost everything in this bustling world obtains more consideration than the preservation of that blessing with which nothing earthly should be put in comparison, viz.—health. This is a dangerous season, and it does not find the human system in the best condition to defy its perils. To use a homely phrase, the torrid summer weather "takes the starch out of people," and leaves them limp and languid. The fires of vitality burn low. The naturally feeble are unusually depressed—the naturally strong are not as vigorous as they might be. Even-eighths of the community feel more or less the influence of the atmospheric changes which produce the malarious diseases common in October and November. It is as a protective against the effects of these changes that HOWETTER'S SYRUP OF BITTERS has obtained no small portion of their celebrity. THE GREAT VEGETABLE TONIC OF THIS AGE is not only a specific for Chronic Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, and Nervous Complaints, but also a preventive of malarious epidemics. Whoever wishes to insure against an attack of intermittent or remittent fever, both of which prevail to a marvellous extent over the country, will do well to resort, without delay, to this famous invigorating and antilicious specific. Quinine has had its day. It leaves a sting behind, and physicians are beginning to discard it. But HOWETTER'S BITTERS become more popular and common, as a water sale with such successive success, simply because they produce a better medicinal effect than any of the powerful poisons used as tonics, and are at once a safe and palatable preparation.

DELICATE MACHINERY.—As machinery will not work without being lubricated, so it is with the human system, which is the most delicate piece of machinery in existence, and requires aid in the operation of its different functions. The "Wine Bitters" will afford that aid in a greater degree than any ever before offered to the public. Sold by Druggists.

FINE BOOTS AND SHOES.—The handsome Boot and Shoes introduced this season are unquestionably the most beautiful ever seen. Of course, this is no news to his patrons, but may prove a valuable article of intelligence to strangers sojourning at our hotel. For their benefit we state that Bartlett's store is at No. 33 S. Sixth street, above Chestnut.

JEWELRY.—Mr. William W. Cassidy, No. 112 South Second street, has the largest and most attractive assortment of fine jewelry and silverware in the city. Purchasers can rely upon obtaining a real, pure article furnished at a price which cannot be equalled. He also has a large stock of American watches in all varieties and at all prices. A visit to his store is sure to result in pleasure and profit.

ALL FOR $25.00.—A Suit of Customer-made Cloth'ng at CHAS. STOKES & CO.'S.

SALE OF BOOTS AND SHOES.—Dealers will find it to their interest to be at the large sale of Boots and Shoes, to be sold by retail, for cash, to-morrow (Thursday) morning, October 1, commencing at 10 o'clock, by C. H. McKissack & Co., Auctioneers, No. 205 Market street.

TRENTON'S NEWS DEPOT, at No. 107 S. Third street, is the place to find all kinds of reading matter. He keeps on hand a constant supply of all the periodicals, magazines, pictorials, fashion plates, and every description of light reading matter. He does not have what you desire, he will send for it. If you wish the New York papers, Trenton is the place to obtain them, as he has the best facilities for forwarding them, and he receives them long before the regular mail arrives.

TO-MORROW, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 1, FIRST GRAND OPENING DAY, WANAMAKER & BROWN.

Our object in having a Grand Opening of our Fall and Winter Clothing is simply to give our patrons and the public in general, an opportunity of inspecting the material, and of seeing the styles to be worn this season. Salesmen will be in attendance to answer all your inquiries respecting price, quality, etc., but no one will be asked or expected to make any purchase.

Drop in in the course of the day, even if you can only say but a minute, and see something of the marvelous preparations we have made for the coming season. WANAMAKER & BROWN.

NATIONAL UNION CLUB, No. 1163 CHESTNUT Street, PHILADELPHIA, September 23, 1868.

At a special meeting held this date, it was resolved that the members of the Club be requested to attend the funeral of our late fellow-member, ROBERT P. KING.

Members will please meet at the CLUB HOUSE on THURSDAY, OCTOBER 1, at 10 o'clock.

A GOLD SHERMANS SMALL AFFAIR.—Most people neglect it. Who minds it? Yet a Cold may turn to Consumption, and then follows almost certain death. Take a Cold in time, then, that is, take Dr. D. Jayne's Expecto-rant, the well known standard remedy for Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, and all Pulmonary Complaints, and your Cold will disappear, as well as all apprehension of danger, aided by all Druggists.

In the social vineyard there is a ripening harvest, following not the order of the seasons, but ever at the invitation of death, beauty of character, its maturity and worth, are bequeathed as treasures of noble inheritance. The Managers of the Soldiers' Home convene at this time to receive by official announcement the minutely information that the President of the Board has been taken hence. In the vigor of manhood, in the midst of public and private operations, death has claimed him. Before he is laid in his tomb, we, his colleagues, would pay fitting regards to his memory.

Resolved, That the name of Robert P. King we will ever recall the faithful friend, the patriotic citizen, the efficient co-laborer, and the honest man. Resolved, That in honoring his memory we will do it to a country and a wide circle of friends, we will miss with still deeper grief that genial hearted kindness which marked his intercourse with us and his ready, practical counsel and aid in our deliberations. Resolved, That we will attend the remains of our President and friend to the grave as a body, and that we will direct these remains to be consigned to our own records, as well as to be published in the pages of the day, over the signatures of the officers of the Board.

Resolved, That we will offer to his bereaved family a copy of these proceedings—a tribute of estimation to the departed and to those he so well loved, a token of sincere sympathy. J. H. BAKER, Vice-President. P. S. HALL, Secretary. Philadelphia, September 23, 1868.
